Please use Stuff-it or Zip to compress files.

D. REMOVABLE MEDIA:

if you mail disk to the factory, please use Macintosh or PC CD-ROMs, DVD-R or DVD+R or USB flash drives. NEVER send original files - ALWAYS SEND A COPY!

Please include the following information with the disk:

- 1) A printout or proof of the artwork that is on the disk.
- 2) "Something to match", for color matching, if available.
- 3) Your PO #, Company Name, Your Name, the name of the Program Used to Create the Art.
- 4) It is also helpful to include a list of the files on the disk and the PMS numbers of spot colors used.

IV. COLOR MATCHING FOR SPOT COLOR IMAGES:

Spot colors can be specified as Pantone PMS colors, as factory standard colors or by sending "swatches" or "proof prints" for matching.

Submitting previously printed items (such as "proof prints", ad items, letterhead, brochures, product labels, etc.) with the camera ready artwork or digital files helps the factory produce more accurately printed products.

V. COLOR MATCHING FOR FOUR-COLOR PROCESS:

Four-color process printing (full color) is used to reproduce graphics with photo images. When digital four-color process artwork is submitted, it is important that "something to match" when printing full color images (four-color process). "Something to match" may be one of the following (from best to worst).

- 1) A previously printed piece.
- 2) A chromalin, match print or other "contact proof"
- 3) Color Key, Naps, or other overlay proofs.
- 4) Digital ink-jet proofs.
- 5) Digital printing press prints.
- 6) Color laser printer print or inkjet on photo paper print.

The closest "final product" match can be made from a digital file when either items 1 or 2 above are provided. If items 3, 4 or 5 above are provided, the match will be close but not exact. Final product matches can vary the most from the original if only item 6 is provided (laser printer or inkjet printer prints). This is due to the wide range of colors that can be produced from the same art by different printers.

If "Something to match" is not provided, the factory will produce two "Digital Printing Press" proofs at no charge. One will be sent for verification and the other copy will be used by the factory as "something to match". Factory will proceed with production using the copy. It is the customer's responsibility to contact customer service immediately after receiving the proof if any discrepancy exist. Factory is not liable for final imprint of products if no proof was requested. The final product may vary slightly from digital printing press proof, but it will be close. When printed on a four color printing press, actual prints may vary from "Digital Printing Press" proofs in the following ways. Very light colors may be slightly darker, very faint detail may be greater and some colors like light green and light blue may be richer.

VI. FOUR-COLOR PROCESS FROM SCANNED IMAGES:

Digitally created four-color process images should be created in, or converted to, the CMYK (cyan, magenta, yellow, black) format. Some programs, such as Photoshop, default to RGB (red, green, blue) format and must be converted to CMYK before they are used for printing. This conversion may result in noticeable changes in color.

When four-color process artwork is created by scanning artwork, the following guidelines should be followed:

- 1) Scan the original continuous tone image in a high-end flat bed or drum scanner.
- 2) The sacm must be CMYK at 300 DPI resolution (or higher) at actual print size (or larger).
- 3) Some scanners only scan in RGB mode. Although these scans may look good on the computer monitor, the color may look different when converted to CMYK for printing on a four-color press.
- 4) Images scanned at a resolution lower than 300 DPI or at a size smaller than final print size should not be increased in a program. Doing so merely spreads the original information without adding any color depth or detail and does not improve image quality.

VII. IMPORTANT POINTS:

- IN ADDITION TO SENDING ARTWORK via email or the web upload, please fax or mail a purchase order to the factory.
- The quality of the imprint depends upon the quality of artwork supplied!
- OUR DELIVERY SCHEDULE depends on the QUALITY OF THE ARTWORK SUBMITTED. Production delay may occur if "something to match" for full color or camera ready artwork is not supplied.
- NEVER send original film or files - ONLY SEND COPIES!
- For spot colors, vector art programs, such as Illustrator or Corel Draw are the best. They provide the best quality and allow images to be resized without loss of sharpness and detail.

Our Art Department will be happy to offer any assistance you may need with art preparation.

When submitting artwork always include a PO#.
